MINER KILLED AT GALICE

Bank Caves on William Gihhart, Killing Him Instantly. Carl Barlow of Galice Creek was the guest of Miss Ollie Smith over Sunday.

Harry Perks, the genial superintendent of the Alameda mine is the proud possessor of a four-foot rattler, which he has offered to match in mortal combat with any reptile that we can scare up.

The grim reaper has visited Galice, and the earthly remains of Wm. Gihhart lie buried 'neath 20 feet of dirt and gravel, the victim of a treacherous slide.

The real estate firm of Sherman & Ireland has dissolved partnership each of the gentlemen continuing the business.

HONOR TO SOLDIER DEAD

Memorial Day fittingly observed in Grants Pass. Flags were at half mast and the gathering at the Presbyterian church, where union memorial services were held, was very large and representative of the city's best people.

Promptly at the hour of 10 o'clock the G. A. R. and W. R. C. members to the number of some 300 marched into the church, the Post under command of Commander John Patrick and the corps under command of President Mrs. M. M. Spencer, and took seats in a body in the main auditorium of the church.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. J. B. Travis of the Baptist church, and it was a most masterly effort and had the true ring and the force of expression of a man, who had the courage of his convictions and who was fearless enough to express them.

At the close of Rev. Travis' address, which was given the closest attention by the large audience, America was sung by the choir, the congregation heartily joining in the benediction pronounced by Rev. H. H. Brown the meeting was dismissed.

Grants Pass remembered the soldier and sailor dead on Memorial Day and exercises commemorative of the day were well attended. The forenoon details from Gen. Logan Post, No. 29 and the Woman's Relief Corps visited the "our cemeteries in the vicinity of Grants Pass and decorated with flowers and flags the graves of soldiers and sailors there buried.

The address of the Rev. Williams' sermon was given in the most fitting manner and was a most masterly effort and had the true ring and the force of expression of a man, who had the courage of his convictions and who was fearless enough to express them.
